

VIRGINIA WOMAN GAINS 25 POUNDS

Says Health Has Been Completely Restored by Taking Tanlac.

"I was almost a complete nervous wreck when I started taking Tanlac, and it has not only completely restored my health, but I have gained twenty-five pounds besides," said Mrs. L. B. Reid, 603 Chestnut street, Portsmouth, Va., recently.

"For three years," she continued, "I was troubled with indigestion, nervousness, loss of sleep and headaches. My food seemed to go straight to my stomach and I had no appetite. I had nervous headaches and pains in my back and shoulders would almost drive me wild. I would get dizzy and so nervous I would almost scream. I got down to eighty-five pounds and was so weak I would just give out several times during the day. After trying everything else I knew of without getting any better, Tanlac gave me a splendid appetite and now I can eat anything and my digestion is perfect. I am not troubled at all with gas or indigestion, dizziness or anything else. I sleep soundly all night. Headaches, nervousness, pains in my back and shoulders are all gone and I never have that tired, worn-out feeling any more."

Tanlac is sold in Memphis exclusively by Weiss' Pharmacy and Warnock Drug Co.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY FOR DEEP COLDS

Memphis Woman Says L-V Gave She and Her Son Quick Relief.

"I used Lung-Vita for a deep-seated cold and got wonderfully quick relief. No other medicine I ever used did so well. When I began using it for my cold I could hardly speak above a whisper, but it cleared my voice right away," says Mrs. M. E. White, 217 Adams St., Memphis, Tenn.

"I also gave it to my son for a bronchial cold with equally good results. It benefited him right from the beginning. Lung-Vita or L-V as it is now called, is wonderful for colds, I think."

Several months ago the name of Lung-Vita was changed to L-V. The only change was in name though, for the medicine is exactly the same. Until your druggist sells out his old stock he will have the medicine Mrs. White used under the name of Lung-Vita, after that under the name of L-V.

M. C. A. OPENED AT HUBERT, ARK. BY ROCK ISLAND

Prominent Workers of Organization and Railroad Officials From Afar Participate in Ceremonies.

The new railway Y. M. C. A. building, recently completed by the Rock Island railroad at Hubert, Ark., the Memphis terminal of the Rock Island, was to be formally opened Monday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies in which a number of the high officials of the railroad, prominent Y. M. C. A. men and local railway officials, are to take part. There will also be a banquet at 1:30 p.m.

T. M. Beason, of Chicago, general manager of the Rock Island, is to be present at the opening and make an address, and also Dr. John F. Munro, of New York, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. department, and John F. Moore, of New York, senior secretary of the railroad department, of the International committee of the Y. M. C. A.

Among other prominent railway and Y. M. C. A. men who are to take part in the program are E. M. Richardson, of Chicago, regional railroad secretary, who will preside; A. E. Walker, of Little Rock, superintendent of the Arkansas division; J. B. Dickinson, of Little Rock, chairman of Arkansas state committee of the Y. M. C. A.; J. F. Shedd, of Chicago, general supervisor of fire prevention, and A. D. Akon, of St. Louis, division freight agent.

A number of Memphis people will go to Hubert Monday afternoon, including F. T. Johnson, division freight agent; F. M. Griffith, division passenger agent; S. L. James, traveling freight agent; Dr. E. E. George, general secretary of the Memphis Y. M. C. A., and others.

The Hubert Y. M. C. A. building is a commodious two-story building, especially equipped to meet the needs of the railroad men and other railway employees whose work requires them to lay over in Hubert. Very few of the Rock Island employees live at Hubert, but hundreds of trainmen running into Memphis are compelled to spend a great deal of their time there between trains, and previous to the completion of the Y. M. C. A. there was no adequate hotel accommodations or club-room facilities where the men might pass the time.

To meet this need the Rock Island railroad made provision for the erection of the Y. M. C. A. under the supervision of the international committee, and equipped it with all modern conveniences for serving the men and providing for their entertainment.

There is a large dormitory department, where clean, comfortable beds are always available at reasonable prices; a first-class restaurant, shower baths, a good library supplied with all the late magazines, pool tables and game rooms, a piano and other provisions for music, lectures and meetings. It is the purpose to make the association serve as a home and a club for the men under the wings and uplifting environment during the idle time they are compelled to spend at the end of their runs.

T. C. Straw, acting secretary, opened the building informally Sept. 5, and since that time 2,221 beds have been used and the restaurant has served 17,050 meals, which is the best proof of the wisdom of the Rock Island officials in providing for the association at Hubert.

AUDIT OF COAL DEALERS' BOOKS READY FOR PUBLIC

Price Committee Meets Tuesday to Hear Result of the Investigation of Testimony Given by Dealers.

The report of the auditor, Ernest Johnson, who went over the books of a number of coal dealers of the city to prove or disprove figures submitted to the coal price committee of the Chamber of Commerce to sustain a plea for $7.25 per ton for Kentucky lump coal in lieu of the government price of $6.85, will be heard by the price committee at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

W. I. Moody, secretary of the price committee, issued a call Monday morning for a committee meeting.

It is expected that the committee will render its decision on the plea of the coal dealers soon after Mr. Johnson makes his report. Unless his investigation goes to show that the coal cost dealers more than the cost of operating their business to the price committee, it is highly probable the committee will decide to endorse the $7.25 per ton price. The testimony taken from coal dealers who are now charging $7.25 and those who are adhering to the government figure, in

DREADED FOR NIGHT TO COME

Texas Lady, in Pretty Bad Fix, Heard of Cardui, Tried It, and Now Says, It Saved Her Life.

Chilton, Texas.—Mrs. Mary Reese, of this place, states: "Some time ago I was quite sick and suffered a great deal. I had been suffering quite awhile. At times I had such severe pains in my back, across my hips and in my side—I was in a pretty bad fix. I was so restless I dreaded for night to come."

Having heard of Cardui, I thought I'd try it. I commenced to get better with my first bottle. I took six bottles of Cardui, and will tell any woman what this Cardui Home Treatment can and will do if taken according to directions. We not only feel it cured but I am able to do my work with ease and know Cardui did it."

Cardui has been found to relieve many womanly pains and ailments, and thousands of women have written to tell of the benefit it has been to them, in cases of female troubles and weakness.

Cardui is prepared from mild, medicinal ingredients, which act as a tonic and help build up health and strength in a natural manner.

ST. LOUIS OFFICER TO RAVEL TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT TANGLE

The local traffic tangle is about to be untangled.

Lieut. Joseph A. Gerk, traffic expert of the St. Louis police department, arrived in Memphis Monday morning for the purpose of making a thorough review of the manner in which traffic is handled here. He will establish a school for Memphis traffic policemen after he has gone over the local situation thoroughly. His suggestions to the city commissioners doubtless will be followed.

Lieut. Gerk comes with a splendid record. At the time of his promotion from traffic sergeant to lieutenant, he was the only officer in the St. Louis police department who had been promoted without a blemish.

With John B. Edgar, commissioner of fire and police, Lieut. Gerk met the officials of the police department Monday, noon after his arrival. He expressed his desire to at once plunge into the work, and he will spend his first two days here wandering about the city, viewing at first hand the reasons for the tangle on downtown streets.

Judge Andy Martin, Late Of Arkansas, Now Millionaire

Friends of Judge Andy Martin, for years the sage of Black Oak ridge, in Crittenden county, Ark., will be glad to know of the good fortune which has come his way. He now is a millionaire.

Judge Martin had a career as a meteorologist as that of Arkansas prior to his final retirement to La Perle. He was born at the forks and reared at the needles of the Linn, in Virginia, and although he lived for years in an overgrown country, he never lost his love for the rough lands. When Sumter was first upon the horizon, he was in the navy and was on a Confederate boat which was blown up in a harbor. He was the only survivor of the crew and he was taken to Virginia and became a member of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's staff.

About the close of the war Judge Martin became involved in an affair in which many negroes lost their lives on a boat. Implicated, he fled to Canada, escaped to Canada, thence he made his way to Newport, Ark., and Memphis, where the end of a card game found him with no tangible assets except a few clothes and an empty wallet. The owner of a John boat charged him the value to put him from Memphis to Arkansas. This was in 1872.

He began there as a surveyor and soon commenced to pick up land. Finally he acquired on Black Oak ridge, up north of Garfield, a magnificent tract, unsurpassed in the St. Francis basin for its timber and the fertility of its soil when cleared. For a year he was county judge.

In that then isolated community he continued his reading and few men anywhere in the Memphis section were more familiar with the classics than he. His home was built on geometric lines and his flower beds were formed after the signs of the zodiac.

Prospered, no relative or old friend had heard of him for 35 years, but he had too much pride of ancestry to use an assumed name, even though the use of his own might cost him his head. Finally his relatives saw a reference to "S. A. Martin, Pointdexter, Ark.," and wrote asking if he was the lost relative. He replied and the family was reunited.

Arkansas' first timber boom came on and he sold for enough to make him comfortable for the rest of his days, returned to the needles of the Dan for a time, thence went to the mountains of Colorado, but loved the Appalachian range better than the Rockies and returned to his first range. There he discovered a mountain of mica worth millions.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS TO BE RE-ELECTED

Election of officers will be the principal business before the regular meeting Monday night of the board of education of Memphis city schools. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the board's headquarters in the Goodwyn Institute building.

Discussion of the proposed increase of teachers' salaries will be made in an informal way only. Whatton St. Jones, superintendent, Monday morning declared this subject now was a matter for the city commission. An increase in school taxes from 50 to 60 cents of the $100 has been proposed. Under the present scale of assessment, this would enlarge the school fund approximately $135,000. Teachers' salaries according to Prof. Jones, will rest on the commission's action.

Hardwig Peres, present president of the board, Mr. Isaac Reese, vice-president, and C. W. Garner, secretary, probably will be re-elected to their present positions.

Members of various committees will be named Monday night in addition to officers.

A delegation of local educators and members of the board will leave Monday night for Nashville where they will attend the sessions of the state education Tuesday and Wednesday. Included in the delegation will be Prof. Jones, Reese, of the city board, and Prof. A. A. Kinnison, of the West Tennessee Normal school.

"NEAR EAST" RELIEF TO BE DISCUSSED

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 12. (Sp.)—Four interesting speakers of nationwide prominence will be in Jackson Wednesday to address the regional conference of Near East relief workers, who assemble at the call of Dr. Charles H. Curran, Louisiana-Mississippi director, to plan a coming effort.

More than 100 prominent Mississippians, including many newspaper editors, will attend the Jackson gathering, according to Dr. Curran, who is arranging final details. Those are the officers of the state education, "Jimmy" Arrell, just "American," with no title, found a chance to attend the sessions of the state education, Mrs. Florence Spencer Dureaux, national women's relief worker with the Red Cross in France, Belgium, Germany and Turkey and later with Near East Armenia, Commander John Breckinridge, of the U.S.S. Martha, who saw something of the suffering of the Near East during a recent trip.

BRYAN WILL TELL HOW TO GET FUNDS

Dry Orator Will Deliver Address in Campaign for Enforcement Money

William Jennings Bryan will deliver an address in Memphis in connection with the local campaign for $100,000 for the enforcement of prohibition laws, according to announcement that has been made from national headquarters of the Antislavery league by Col. W. McDonald Lee of Richmond. The exact date of Col. Bryan's address in Memphis has not been fixed definitely. He will tour Southern states beginning on Jan. 16 and ending on Jan. 25.

Col. Bryan is chairman of the state campaign in Florida where he makes his winter home and will go to that state as soon as possible in order that he may participate in the campaign. He is also honorary chairman of the national organization.

At the Jackson day dinner, Jan. 8, at which time Bryan took issue with President Wilson on the settlement of the league of nations covenant, he stated that he believed the Democratic party would accept national prohibition as a principle of that party, saying that two-thirds of the Democrats and three-fourths of the Democratic representatives had voted for the prohibition amendment.

The exact date of Mr. Bryan's address in Memphis will be announced later. His speech will be free and the public will be extended a cordial invitation. The campaign in Memphis and Shelby county will begin on Jan. 15 the date the constitutional amendment becomes effective.

GAMESTERS ARE NABBED IN RAIDS

Police Saturday and Sunday again took to smashing records in the number of arrests made. A total of 176 alleged law violators fell into their clutches during the 48-hour period. Several of these were for alleged violations of the game laws.

Raids were carried out Saturday and Sunday by squads commanded by sergeant. Three men were charged with running game laws, and the other with gaming. Henry Allen, negro, 128 W. Main, was taken in town when police claim they found him in charge of "Rags" Anderson's place at Illinois avenue and Florida street, where 25 negroes were gathered about a pool table in an attitude that suggested game.

This raid was conducted by Serg. E. C. Kummerle and Patrolmen Simmons and Crogan. Evidence, they said, was tossed into the stove before they got into pinching distance.

Leroy Hampton, negro, 1946 Charles street, and six friends, broke in when Serg. Ham, of Barksdale station, with Patrolmen Camferland and Hart surrounded them.

A. A. Brown, 847 Jackson avenue, and a party of friends also had the gaming charge placed against them. Allen, Hampton and Brown were charged with running game laws.

A policy layout was seized in the joint controlled by E. E. Smith, 149 Calhoun avenue, Saturday. Grand was charged with operating a policy game. This latest raid was the second of that of a week ago, when 60 gamesters and 70 other alleged violators went to make up 150 arrests for police.

MICROBES FEAST ON P. O. STAMP MUCILAGE

Do you know why the taste of mucilage on a stamp is so bitter?

It's the several million bacteria which have been tasting, not the supposed bad quality of sticky matter Uncle Sam applies to the stamp. However, Miss Helen Weiss, in the stamp sales window at the postoffice, is helping the letter mailer avoid this to a certain extent.

Probably you fussed a bit when buying stamps and had the clerk hand them to you upside down. There's a reason, as is said in breakfast food circles. In handling one stamp with the gummy side up, according to Miss Weiss' way of figuring, the danger of accumulating a couple million germs from the marble counter is avoided.

The next time you purchase stamps watch and see if they are not handed to you in this manner.

BUTLER BLAMES LAXITY FOR PUBLIC'S PROTESTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (Sp.)—Senator Butler, president of Columbia university, told today that all state committees considering a national budget system today that lax administration was responsible for much of the present-day dissatisfaction.

A national budget system with a provision requiring cabinet officers to come face to face with both houses of congress, he said, "would put congress where it should be—in control of the financial situation—and enable both congress and the country to fix upon the president complete responsibility for any error or delinquency in administration."

If the budget system did not save a single dollar it would give every assurance that every dollar was wisely expended, declared Dr. Butler, who suggested establishment in the senate and house of a committee on public audit, with a member of the minority party as its chairman.
